My History (Billy30)

Business	Discount	Description	Popularity
	Allen wrenches for 2$!	Bring this voucher and your military ID to take advantage of this our great offer for military veterans.	50

My history will be down below the edit account information on the same page as "my account". There will be 3 tabs, or 4 if alias is implemented. The tab exemplified here is showing a deal that Billy30 utilized most recently. If you were to continue scrolling, there will be more deals that he has used in the past.

Votes will show all the votes that Billy30 has made, again with most recent being on top. Comments will show the comments that he has made on deals.

The Family accounts tab (shown on the right) will list all accounts that are associated with this account. They can delete them if they do not want them on their account anymore. They are limited to 5 family accounts only.

Might add field to change username and create "alias" field in db to keep up with previous usernames.

Blue hyperlink goes to another page with the discount description, along with contact info for business. There will also be comment section about the deal stating what is good about it, or what is bad about it.

Whenever you click on the map on the pin, it will pop up with a description of the place and give the option to also view on Google Maps.

Whenever the hyperlink is clicked on the discount, it will take you to the discount page where you can see more about the discount itself, and the company. You can also clarify if it is only at a particular store, or if it is throughout multiple locations in Valdosta. As you can see, there is also a comment section, of which can allow for users to talk about the discount, good or bad. This could be a way for the people to help manage the good deals, and the bad deals that may not be holding up to what they're promising, thus why the popularity number is allowed to go to a negative number.

A feature may be added if we find the appropriate software to implement a barcode, and possibly a code to generate. This will be presented at the time of purchase in order to apply the necessary discount/deal. It will pop up over the page.
